From the President - Angela Allen Sherzer

Spring is here, and summer vacation plans are just around the corner! Thank you for helping to make this an outstanding year for the Atlanta Flute Club!!

Just to recap some of the wonderful activities we have offered this year, we started the year with our popular “play, meet, socialize” activity, “Flute and Friends”---what a great way to start the season!! Next, we had our always-popular “Flute Choir Extravaganza”; this just keeps getting better every year!!

Our Flute Fair with guest artist, Jasmine Choi, was another highlight of our year; we expanded the number of workshops this year and rearranged the program a bit. Please give us your input as to how you liked the changes!!

Our last event of the season is our Spring Event, featuring ASO flutist, Todd Skitch. Todd will be presenting a recital and conducting a masterclass on orchestral excerpts. For those of you aspiring to play in an orchestra, this is a MUST!! The Spring Event will take place on Saturday, May 23rd, at Greater Atlanta Christian School. Please save the date, and make plans to meet and welcome the newest member of the Atlanta

Symphony Orchestra’s flute section, Todd Skitch!

This newsletter will be my last one as your President; my term comes to a close in July. I have thoroughly enjoyed my time as President of the Atlanta Flute Club. With the help of our Board and members, we have been able to offer many opportunities to flutists in Atlanta and surrounding areas. I would especially like to thank our outgoing Secretary, Lisa Mahoney for her many years of dedicated service. Our capable new slate of officers takes the helm on July 1: Erica Bass Pirtle---President, Cecilia Price---Vice-President, Frankie Cavanah---Secretary, and Laura Philpott---Treasurer. We also added three Board positions: Volunteer Coordinator, Hospitality Coordinator, and Publicity Coordinator. With the growth of our organization, these were much needed positions that will help delineate duties. Also, I must say “thank you” to the other Board members who have made my job so much easier!

We are in the process of planning our next year, and it will surely include some exciting events, so please check our website, www.atlantafluteclub.org, and Facebook page for updates. We are always open to new ideas for programs from our members, so don’t hesitate to reach out to us with your suggestions! Don’t forget there are many flute related activities available during the summer months, as well. The National Flute Association will be holding its annual convention in Washington, D.C., on Aug. 13-16. Other closer activities are available at Columbus State University, Univ. of Georgia, and Wildacres Flute Retreat, among others. Make plans to attend at least one of these! Have a great summer!!

2015 Atlanta Flute Fair

February 21, 2015 was a cold day, with snow in the forecast. Amid gray skies and much worry about icy roads, the hearts of Atlanta flutists were made warm by wonderful experiences at the Atlanta Flute Fair. There was great fear the college would be closed, but they did stay open and great music was enjoyed by those who braved the weather.

This year's Guest Artist was Jasmine Choi, one of the most outstanding flutists in the world. In addition to judging our competition and teaching a masterclass, she was publicly interviewed by the members of the Honors Flute Choirs. She talked about her love of music and the flute and how she has come to her level of excellence. The final event of the day was her recital and the excitement in the audience was palpable. Jasmine did not disappoint! Her playing was musically inspiring, technically dazzling and totally from her heart. All of her experience and enthusiasm were poured into the music and all who heard were completely amazed.

Flute Fair 2015 had many excellent opportunities listening. Our annual Young Artist Competition featured Kenneth Cox, Hannah Hammel and Min Hee Kim, each playing a demanding program. (The winner was Hannah Hammel.) Kelly McKinney conducted a very successful flute choir reading session. Junior Artist Competition winner, Joowan An, played a short recital of music by Poulenc, Mercadante and Faure. The 2015 Middle School Honors Choir, performed music arranged for them by their director, Nicole Chamberlain. The 2015 Honors High School Choir played music of Argentina, directed by Cecilia Price and both choirs played together several pieces, including the World Premiere of Railroaded by Nicole Chamberlain.

The workshops at this year's flute fair were exceptionally interesting and helpful. Dr. Cate Hummel taught a lovely class on Marcel Moyse. Alan Horne presented an overview of flute repair that was very helpful. Andrée Martin gave a session entitled Breathing and Balance – Free is the Key. Nicole Chamberlain and Gay Lynn Westover (a licensed Physical Therapist), helped the audience with “When Tooting Your Flute is a Pain in the Neck”. With this wide variety of workshops made the day educational, interesting and fun.

The exhibits this year were outstanding. Our local vendors, Whipkey's Music, Music and Arts, North Georgia Band Instruments and Spotted Rocket Music were joined by J.L. Smith, Flutistry of Boston, Altus Flutes, Haynes and Muramatsu America. Many of our members found the flute of their dreams. Some bought, but most will continue to save up for that perfect instrument.

Happy memories of this Flute Fair 2015 and Jasmine Choi's teaching and playing will remain with us for a long time. It was certainly the best possible way to spend a freezing Saturday. Being with flute friends is always an inspiring joy.

AFC Members at the 2015 National Flute Associationg Convention

It's always fun to hear about Atlanta Flute Club Members traveling and participating on the National Flute Convention each year. This year's convention in Washington, D.C. will be seeing a good deal of AFC members. You can always count on Kathy Farmer and Kelly Via to be in attendance, and this year is no different. This year Kathy Farmer is traveling with the Flute Choir of Atlanta where they will be performing a program called "American Seasons" which will include two premieres. One premiere of Kathy Farmer's own work and a commissioned work called "Summer Insomnia" by AFC's own Nicole Chamberlain. Kelly Via will also be attending with his Mercer University Flute Choir. Nicole Chamberlain will also be in attendance and will be presenting "When Tootin' Your Flute Is a Pain in Your Neck" with her sister, Physical Therapist Gay Lynn Westover, which they presented at the 2015 Atlanta Flute Fair. We look forward to a lot of photos and stories!

AFC Member Cecilia Price Performs Tribute for Former Teacher, Dr. Sheryl Cohen

Dr. Sheryl Cohen

Of the numerous events during the recent Mid-South Flute Festival held at the University of Alabama this past March, one of the most memorable and inspirational was a tribute to Dr. Sheryl Cohen, Professor Emerita of Flute at the University of Alabama and author of the much lauded book, "Bel Canto Flute: The Rampal School."

Dr. Cohen was honored for her long and successful career as an Artist/Teacher of the flute, and her many contributions to the world-wide community of flutists. Events included a wonderful recital featuring several of Dr. Cohen's former students, many of whom travelled from across the country to perform and to pay tribute to their teacher. On the day after the festival (Sunday, March 29th), those students gathered again at the Moody Music Building on the UA campus, along with many of Dr. Cohen's friends and colleagues, for a tribute that featured a captivating slide-show presentation created by former student Cecilia Price. With an array of photos spanning Dr. Cohen's lifetime in music, samples of live performances, and written tributes contributed by her colleagues and students around the world, those in attendance had an opportunity to celebrate the life and work of an extraordinary artist and dedicated teacher of the flute.

The day was capped by a performance by all flutists in attendance of Harry Phillips' "Cirrus Clouds" for flutes and triangles, a work commissioned by Dr. Cohen- a fitting end to a moving and inspiring tribute.

New music for impatient people.

"Flute and Friends" Club Social

The Atlanta Flute Club kicks off the 2015-2016 season on Saturday, October 3, 2015. Join Club members and interested players in the manifold event we call "Flute and Friends" (or FnF, for short!). FnF is a good opportunity to meet and interact with Club officers, meet your peers who also love the flute, and fill up on tasty snacks and beverages.

This year, FnF entails a members' recital, socializing, a flute choir reading session, and a swap meet... er, this is new - what's this swap meet? Participants in the FnF swap meet bring flute related items (instruments, parts of instruments like head joints, printed music or printed parts, or accessories and such) that they would like to sell or trade.

Those interested in the FnF members' recital should contact Alan Horne, alain@flutedynamics.com, in order to be included on the program, or to ask questions about the recital or just FnF in general.

Mark your calendar and watch your Club email for details about FnF (the how, what, when, and where). See ya there!

Be an Active Atlanta Flute Club Member! We Want YOU!

Have you felt like you don't really know anyone in the Atlanta Flute Club? A good way to fix that is to share your talents with the Atlanta Flute Club. We all know you play flute, we have that in common, but what we probably don't know is that you're a photographer, a writer, a graphic designer, web designer, an organizer, a sales person, a social media wiz, a grant writer, an event planner, a people wrangler, or even have an area of expertise we don't even know about! Even if you don't have a super secret talent, let's face it playing the flute is already a super power, we still need people who can help prep events, work the Flute Fair, Spring Event, fold programs, help locate resources, or just be the muscle to help us set up chairs and music stands. Visit the officers and committee chair page in this newsletter for contact information. It doesn't have to be a lifelong commitment, but we wouldn't turn that down either!

Thank You, 2015 Flute Fair Volunteers!

We would like to thank the following individuals who served as Volunteers at the 2015 Atlanta Flute Fair:

Julianne Apperson	Teresa Lind	Cecelia Price	Erica Bass Pirtle
Nancy Baldwin	Jim Mahoney	Elizabeth Saller	Cheri Lawson
Lucy Kowalski	Lisa Mahoney	Shana Stone	Nancy Wilson
Odalie Kromp	Laura Philpott	Mike Wilson	Tracy Woodall

Whether working at the registration table, serving as a door monitor, checking badges, working backstage, or setting up/resetting chairs, each of these individuals helped the day to run smoothly and made this year's Flute Fair a more enjoyable experience for everyone!
